

Some tributes from former Sun Chan awardees

Prof. Gregory Fu, Caltech (2000)

Prof. Sunney Chan was a scientific giant and a wonderfully warm and generous man. His passing is a tremendous loss for humanity. It is a privilege to be forever associated with him and his family through the Mr. and Mrs. Sun Chan Memorial Award in Organic Chemistry.

Prof. Shengming Ma, SIOC (2004)

He is a gentleman with a love for science and an enthusiastic passion to encourage young men.

Prof. Zhang-Jie Shi, Fudan University (2014)

Professor Sunney Chan made significant efforts and contributions to the Chinese Chemistry community, which should be highly appreciated. As an awardee, I was highly honored. Indeed, with encouragement of this important award, I am always keeping my interest in devoting myself to chemistry. Hopefully, we can contribute better chemistry to the whole community.

Prof. Ken-Tsung Wong, National Taiwan University (2010)

Every time I met Sunney, he always gave me the warmest smile. He was full of enthusiasm and curiosity when talking about science, and gave me the sincerest encouragement, which made me move forward with more confidence. Receiving this award is one of the highlights of my academic career. I will learn from his enthusiasm and continue to encourage young scientists and contribute to our society.
